PRYOR SOUGHT TO LIKEN HOMOSEXUALITY TO BESTIALITY AND PEDOPHILIA

While Serving As Attorney General, Pryor Wrote A Lawrence V. Texas Brief In Defense Of The Law Banning Sodomy, In Which He Argued Acknowledging a Constitutional Right To Sodomy, Would Logically Extend That Right To Pedophilia, Prostitution, Necrophilia, Pedophilia, Adultery, And Bestiality. According to SCOTUS Blog, “Pryor could face a more uphill nomination battle than the other finalists. President George W. Bush nominated Pryor to the 11th Circuit in 2003, but the nomination stalled after Senate Democrats criticized Pryor for several incidents. While serving as attorney general, Pryor wrote a brief in defense of the Texas law banning sodomy that was later struck down by the Supreme Court in Lawrence v. Texas. In the brief he argued that recognizing a constitutional right to sodomy ‘must logically extend to activities like prostitution, adultery, necrophilia, bestiality, incest and pedophilia.’ SCOTUS Blog, [1/30/17]

Chuck Schumer Alleged That Pryor Believed It Was Constitutional To “Lock Up Gays And Lesbians” And Equated Gay Sex With Prostitution, Necrophilia, Incest, And Pedophilia. While appearing at Committee On The Judiciary, U.S. Senate, Chuck Schumer said, “But my concerns about this nomination hardly begin and end with the choice issue. On gay rights the Attorney General believes it is constitutional to lock up gays and lesbians for having intimate relations in the privacy of their own homes. And he has equated gay sex with prostitution, adultery, necrophilia, bestiality, possession of child pornography, incest and pedophilia.” Committee On The Judiciary, U.S. Senate, [6/11/03]

PRYOR RESCHEDULED A DISNEY WORLD VACATION EARLY TO AVOID EXPOSING HIS FAMILY TO “GAY DAY”

As Attorney General Pryor Rescheduled A Family Trip To Disney World So As To Not Expose His Daughters To The Park’s Annual “Gay Day.” According to Birmingham News, “There’d already been one glitch in Attorney General Bill Pryor’s planned trip to Disney World with his daughters. Then came ‘Gay Day.’ Pryor rescheduled his family vacation this week when he learned his trip would coincide with homosexuals’ annual gathering there. An aide said Pryor was concerned about his two young daughters. ‘It’s not like you’re in the same restaurant with homosexuals - they pretty much take over the park,’ said Claire Austin, who left the attorney general’s office to raise money for Pryor’s 1998 election campaign. Pryor’s family left for Orlando three days early so the six-day trip would end before homosexuals arrive this weekend for the unsanctioned assembly. The vacation had already been rescheduled once because of a family wedding. The leader of a homosexual group called Pryor’s change of plans for Gay Day unfortunate and unnecessary. ‘I just question what he’s protecting his children from,’ said David W. White of the Gay and Lesbian Alliance of Alabama.” Birmingham News, [6/5/97]
